

Point of View- The Reaping Scene Essay

For this assignment, you will rewrite the reaping scene (p. 16-26, 32-33) from the perspective of a different character to show your mastery of understanding how point of view shapes narratives. Focus on seeing the situation (the reaping) through your character's eyes and understanding.

The essay will be at least 250 words, typed, and double spaced. You need to use Times New Roman font at size 12. Your paper should include:

- 1 instance of dialogue – underline in red
- 1 simile or metaphor – underline in blue
- 1 instance of internal thought/narration –underline in yellow
- 1 instance of lush sensory detail – underline in green
- A thoughtful first sentence and a thoughtful last sentence – underline in purple

Your rough draft, along with your two prewriting sheets and this instruction page, is due on Friday, September 20.
